SPECIAL SESSION CALLED

INDIANA GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS TO MEET ON SEPT. 16.

Grand Secretary Leedy is paying attention to the Parade Feature of the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

A special session of the Indiana Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows has been called to meet in this city Monday, Sept. 16, for the purpose of conferring the Grand Lodge and past official degrees on such past objects as may present themselves with proper credentials from their lodges. The object of the special session is to enable members of the Indiana Grand Lodge who lack only the Grand Lodge and past official degree to be eligible to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge meeting to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge sessions.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge, the highest body of the Odd Fellows' fraternity, will be in session every day of the week of Sept. 16 to 21 in the hall of the House of Representatives at the Statehouse. Indications point to an immense attendance from all over Indiana. There are 664 Odd Fellows' lodges in the State, and it is expected that at least 60 of them will be in the parade on Sept. 17.

A circular which Grand Secretary Leedy is sending out this week calls on every lodge in the State to put forth its best efforts to have a large representation here the week of the big meeting. The circular announces among other things that the district deputy grand master is to be county marshal and is to take charge of the head of the parade. He is instructed to visit all the lodges within his jurisdiction and see that the importance of attending the Sovereign Grand Lodge is generally understood. Mr. Leedy is counting on having 25,000 Odd Fellows in the parade march parade day. A feature of the parade is to be a great map of Indiana at the head of the parade. Following this will appear banners showing the membership in the order of every country in the world.

The Patriarchs Militant, whose appearance is to be a feature of the parade, will be in camp at the state fair grounds, where they will give dress parades and entertain the citizens. The parade will be the most spectacular of the kind in the history of the State. The parade is being arranged by the Odd Fellows and the state fair. The parade will be a great day for the city. The parade will be a great day for the city. The parade will be a great day for the city.

AN OLD MAN INJURED.

Admiral Erlmann, Seventy-Two, Played Seven-Up in a Saloon.

"I have played more than ten thousand games of seven-up and never got in trouble before and never got hit before," said Admiral Erlmann, who resides at 1265 East Tenth street, as he sat in the surgical room at the City Dispensary, last night, having three ugly gashes on his head and face sewed up. Erlmann is a seventy-two year old man and his last evening he visited his old haunt, O'Brien & Talbot's saloon, corner of Wabash and Alabama streets, and engaged in a game of seven-up with Charles Keister, his partner. Against two strange young men from the country, a quarrel resulted from a dispute over the game and the two young men jumped from the table and struck the old man. He was evidently hit with a bottle glass on the nose and the two young men, one of whom was a brother of the other, did not know what the trouble really started about, but the first thing he realized he had been a victim of a vicious blow. He lost the sight of his right eye some time ago and his left eye narrowly escaped serious injury. The bicycle police were called, but the two assailants escaped.

CASE NOT REPORTED.

A Nurse at City Hospital Has Had Smallpox for a Week.

Belle Bates, a probation nurse at the City Hospital, has been in the contagious pavilion for more than a week suffering with smallpox, but the case has never been reported to the Board of Health. There was a rumor that the disease had broken out among the nurses and that two besides Miss Bates were stricken, but Dr. Spencer, superintendent of the hospital, said this was not true. Miss Bates' condition is rapidly improving and it is expected that she will have fully recovered within the next few days.

Governor Durbin announced yesterday that he had decided to appoint Colonel I. N. Walker, former national commander of the G. A. R. and ex-State tax commissioner, to a position on the board of monument regents to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of General Fred Kneller. If Colonel Walker is elected president of the board, he will draw a salary of $1,000 per year during the life of the board of regents, which continues only to Nov. 1, at which time Governor Durbin will, under the law, replace the board of regents with a board of control.

What W. G. Green Says.

William G. Green, a private banker at Denver, Ind., was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Brannan on the charge of running a bank without paying the special tax and brought here. Green said he was not a banker and that he was not running a bank. He was released on $1,000 bail and is expected to return to Denver soon.

AN ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Herman F. Brandes Instantly Killed by Discharge of Shotgun.

Herman F. Brandes, a German grocer, saloon keeper and butcher, at Prospect and Madeira streets, accidentally shot himself yesterday morning, death resulting instantly. A few moments before the shooting Mrs. Brandes was in the room and her husband was bathing his feet. When she started to go downstairs she told him he ought to extract the shells from a gun which stood in the corner near his chair. She soon heard the report of the gun and rushed upstairs to find him dead. The load of shot having entered his right eye, it is supposed he reached for the gun and drew it toward him by the muzzle and in some manner it was discharged.

Brandes was forty-one years of age and had been in the city for about ten years. His financial affairs are said to be in good shape. His funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence.

FUN IN THE COUNCIL

IT IS PRECIPITATED BY ELECTION OF INSPECTORS.

The Democratic Members, Claiming the Proceeding Was Irregular, Refused to Vote.

WILL BE CARRIED INTO COURT

INTERURBAN RAIL CONTRACTS REFERRED TO COMMITTEE.

The Negley Redistricting Ordinance Passed by a Party Vote—Municipal Affairs.

There was a clash in the City Council last night over the appointment of inspectors for the special election to be held July 18 in the Fifth ward, at which a successor to ex-Councilman John M. Higgins is to be elected. The Republican members, who are in the majority, proceeded on the theory that the City Council had a right to select inspectors for a municipal election in any manner it pleased, deriving its power from the election laws of the State. Their procedure was based on the advice of some of the best attorneys the city affords. The Democrats in the Council, however, were determined to offer the Republicans all the opposition possible, and the latter were not allowed to offer a single motion, no matter how unimportant it might be, without a howl of protest.

But the Democratic protests were all in vain and the following Republican inspectors were elected by a vote of 11 to 0, the Republicans voting solidly for the ticket and the Democrats refusing to vote: First Precinct—Charles Warrington, Second—William Hillman, Third—Louis C. Held, Jr., Fourth—G. A. Wurrier, Jr., Fifth—Thomas E. Ryan, Sixth—Amor Funk, Seventh—Adam H. Seldman, Eighth—George F. Dreschel, Ninth—Joseph Seyfried, Tenth—Justice Webster, Eleventh—Henry Hudson, Twelfth—William Morgan, Thirteenth—William Svendsen.

The matter of the election of inspectors came up just after a ten-minute recess, which the Republicans obtained in order to map out their plan of procedure. As soon as President Crall rapped for order Councilman Billingsley (Rep.) obtained recognition from the clerk and made an announcement that the regular order of business be suspended and the Council proceed to the election of inspectors. Notwithstanding a howl of protest from the Democrats, the chair put the motion and declared it carried viva voce. President Crall then appointed Councilman McGrew (Dem.) and Councilman Diller (Rep.) as tellers.

As soon as the tellers had been accomplished Councilman McGrew (Rep.) offered an oral motion that the Council proceed to the election of inspectors by ballot. When the motion was offered several Democrats, including Bernauer, Perrot, Moriarty and others, all arose at the same time and began clamoring for recognition from the chair. President Crall recognized them one at a time, and, commencing with Bernauer, every Democratic councilman solemnly protested against the procedure the Republicans had adopted. From time to time the more active Democrats would sing out something about "rag rule," and Moriarty would demand to know why he should be in the Council as members of the majority. After the hubbub had simmered down a little, President Crall called for the yeas and nays on Mr. McGrew's motion and ordered the clerk to call the roll.

REFUSED TO VOTE.

The first Democratic name called was that of Bernauer, and he flatly refused to vote. He asked the president to excuse him, but the Republican members of the Council refused to grant his request. His name was called a second time and he still refused to vote. He then asked to be excused from the roll call, but the Democrats obtained recognition, and, after intimating something about the consequences of disobeying the rules of the Council, offered a motion that the body proceed with the ballot. The clerk called Mr. Bernauer's name for a third time, and this time he weakly and voted "yea" on the motion.

The ballot proceeded, the Republicans winning the "yea" and "nay" vote "yea" until the roll reached "Moriarty of the Tenth." He explained that he wasn't getting a fair deal and then refused to vote. The motion was carried by a vote of 11 to 8, and a Republican councilman then placed in nomination the names of the five Democrats who were subsequently elected. The vote was taken by ballot and the nominees were elected by a vote of 11 to 8. The Republican nominees and no Democrats were elected. The election was a complete rout for the Democrats.
